Name: Samuel MOODY

Personal Details:
Born in Worcester about 1728.
Died on 30 January 1771, and was buried at sea in the Indian Ocean.

Position On-Board: AB seaman

Biographical Summary:
Moody enrolled on Endeavour on 4 June 1768. He was an AB seaman, and was assigned to the carpenter’s team. He was a good seaman and was never punished for any misconduct.

He did not survive the voyage, and was one of the crew who died of dysentery after drinking the contaminated water taken on board at Batavia. He died on 30 January 1771, as Endeavour was crossing the Indian Ocean.

He appears to have had no family, as his Will does not mention a wife or children. He left all of his property to his friend John Powell. His Will is held at The National Archives, Kew, London.
(Will reference PROB 11/969)

Sources:
Beaglehole, The Voyage of Endeavour 1768-1771.