Name: William WILSHIRE

Personal Details:
No personal details have been found.

Position On-Board: Private in the Marines

Biographical Summary:
He was one of the party of Marines who joined Endeavour when she arrived at Plymouth, in August 1768.

He survived the voyage, but his subsequent whereabouts are unknown.

In August 1802, he wrote to Joseph Banks seeking financial support. In his letter he claimed that it was difficult for him to find work “...as my trade the Greatest part of it is taken away by Machinery.” Banks sent him a guinea by way of reply.
